Oakwood®

Oakwood Studios Singapore is filled with surprises and interesting elements. As soon as one enters the property, one is welcomed by red check-in pods which ascribes to the little red dot which Singapore has come to be known as. Oakwood Studios Singapore's Curators can be found behind these pods, assisting guests with their stay in the city. Suspended from the ceiling, a contemporary light installation featuring tubes of red and white acrylic with energy-saving LED lamps illuminate a 'thumbs up' Singapore reflected for all to see. Neon lights and LED diodes are also utilized at the lift lobby as an art element, making it an eye-catching statement for residents every time they go up to their apartment. These clever and creative touches across the property by local design firm FBEYE add to the stylish and modern vibe across the public spaces.
